Whether a senior, junior, sophomore, or freshman, you are numbered among the more than 2,100 Redskins who take part in the Ivian's story. You can identify with studies, activities, and sports that are integral parts of life at Emmerich Manual High School. Our present buildings, though sixteen years old, are still attractive and new looking because Redskins care. Ours is a fine school with a proud heritage dating back to 1895.

Pictures You - A Redskin

All-school dances, varying weekend activities, drew many for evenings of fun, excitement, and "strenuous" exercise.

Look at Yourself

Boys delivering stacks of rental books from the bookstore supplied all classes each semester.

A Presidential election year, Redskins worked for their favorites even though they could not vote.

The Marching Band paraded with the ROTC on Veteran's Day in downtown Indianapolis. Many other Redskins were spectators.

- You're Everywhere

Although Redskins as individuals have differing likes and dislikes and varying abilities and backgrounds, we all have shared the day by day schedule of this school year with its work and fun and can fit ourselves neatly into many of the Ivian's pictured events.

Underclassmen sat for photographers whose "studio" was Manual's stage.

Traditional Pageantry Sets Stage for Coronation

Reigning as King and Queen Manual XVI, Seniors Don Norcross and Ruthie Smith held the spotlight during Homecoming festivities October 18.

Half-time arrived with an enthusiastic crowd of Manualites awaiting the "big show." Principal Wayne H. Kincaid unsealed the envelope and announced the royal couple as Bill O'Neill and Joanna Hafer, 1967 King and Queen, stood ready to crown them.

Kneeling before King Don and Queen Ruthie, the Girls' Glee Club accompanied Mickey Bridgewater as he sang "Queen of Manual High" and "Girl of My Dreams" in the traditional pageantry style. Open convertibles awaited the regal procession as the King, Queen, and their court prepared to circle the field one last time before the close of half-time ceremonies at Delavan Smith Field.

Under the direction of Mr. William Kleyla, Drum Major Gordon Mills led the Redskin Marching Band during the gala festivities. Present in the Manual audience as alumni guests of honor were the members of the undefeated Redskin football team of 1958, mythical state champs, and their families.

Freshman Football Players Mike Collins and Mike Graham roll out the white carpet for the King and Queen candidates of the Homecoming ceremonies at Delavan Smith Field.

All smiles and at the height of glory among the Manualites, Homecoming King Don Norcross and Queen Ruthie Smith mount the back of their "royal carriage" for departure from the football field.

Manualite "Papooses" Marcia Lamberti and Robert Lantry, crown bearers for the royal couple, are escorted to the field by Letterman Mark Janke and driver Don White.

Color Guards Patty Stroud, Becky Benjamin, Renate Gennrich, and Carolyn Harding lead the band back to Manual after half time activities come to a close at Homecoming.

Lining the walk prepared for the candidates, the Girls' Glee Club enthusiastically accompanies the Red-skin Marching Band in song as voices blend in "Onward Manual." Their white surpluses and red stoles added to the colorful setting.

Fanciful Village, 'Brigadoon,' Provides Setting

Intent with his new love, Tommy Albright (Mickey Bridgewater) listens to Fiona MacLaren (Sheila Betzler) as she sings.

Five weeks of preparation were the prerequisite for the Music Department's presentation of Lerner and Lowe's "Brigadoon." On the nights of November 22 and 23, the combined efforts of the stage crew, cast, and pit orchestra succeeded in transporting the audience to the Village of Brigadoon hidden in a foggy valley of the Scottish Highlands.

The tale started when two travelers from New York wandered astray into the countryside. As fog in a nearby valley lifted, a mysterious town emerged before Tommy Albright and Jeff Douglas, played by Mickey Bridgewater and Don Norcross. In Brigadoon, Tommy fell in love with a village maiden, Fiona MacLaren, played by Sheila Betzler. With vigilant eyes on Jeff, Joyce Thompson as Meg Brockie persuaded this handsome stranger to go off with her. Other villagers were preoccupied with the marriage plans of Fiona's sister Jean and her sweetheart, Charlie Dalrymple. Regina Maple and Bruce Haddix played these lovers. The supporting cast animated the market place as well as village life in the enchanted town which appeared only one day each century.

Rehearsals for "Brigadoon" got into full swing early in October and continued in high spirits until opening night. All worked together whether with ticket sales or advertising or during the many hours of practice needed to bring "Brigadoon" to life.

Curious villagers gather in the market place of Brigadoon to observe two strange travelers from New York who have lost their way during their vacation in Scotland.

For Music Department's Annual Stage Show

After the excitement of Jean's marriage day dies down, the girls gather in the market for a session of just "girl talk."

Portraying Maggie Anderson, Carol Hill gaily steps in time to the music attempting to catch the attention of her sweetheart.

Clever Parents Conjure Up New Money-makers

Mrs. William Larrimore buys popcorn from Mr. Roy Kivett, a Dads Club concession stand salesman, at a basketball game. Dads did a "hot" business to add to their coffers.

Making plans for activities for the Pow Wow are Mrs. Don Boyd; Mrs. Mary Haas, Director of Activities; Mrs. David Stace, P-TA president; and Mrs. Paul Hackleman, Pow Wow chairman.

Redskin parents, members of the Parent-Teacher Association and Dads Club, worked tirelessly this year, as always, to provide money for extras for us Manualites. For example, they helped pay for Redskins attending conventions, workshops, institutes, and summer camp sessions.

These parent groups added to their coffers as well as appeased hungry appetites by their usual concession-stand activities at both the football field and in the gym. Sandwiches, hot and cold drinks, and ice creams keep football fans happy. Popcorn, ice cream, and candies comprised the "menu" at basketball games. Dads sold their wares from their booth in an east-end entrance to the gym and through traveling vendors in the stands.

Dads' new money-maker was a White Elephant Sale that proved so successful, being both fun and lucrative, it will probably become an annual event.

A big night for all Redskins was April 18 when the P-TA Pow Wow, involving parents, teachers, and students, provided fun galore. Starting with the dinner hour in the cafeteria it ran through an evening of merchandise and game booths in the gym, a talent show in the auditorium, and a popularity contest. The Pow Wow closed with a dance. Everyone found entertainment to his taste, and the P-TA's "cash register" rang a merry tune.

Mr. Dick Kivett, '57 grad and auctioneer for the Dads Club's White Elephant sale, makes a deal with Vice-President E. Franklin Fisher, who was an enthusiastic customer.

Turnabout Day, Visiting Spark Education Week

The Theme "America Has a Good Thing Going — Its Schools" guided the plans of American Education Week, November 10-16. Mr. Wayne Dunbar, chairman of the AEW committee at Manual, commented that Open House would provide parents and other interested persons an opportunity to see what Manual offers to its students. To aid teachers and the administrative staff at Open House, Massoma, Roines, and Student Affairs Board members handed out directories to visitors, so they could find their way around and locate teachers they wished to see. The play "Green Blackboard" was presented in the auditorium by members of National Thespians and Mask and Wig prior to the visiting period and was well attended by visitors.

Students were given the chance to "put on teachers' shoes" on Turnabout Day. Miss Ann Manning, chairman, organized this day of activities, for students and teachers during which top seniors became administrators and classroom teachers. The day ended with a tea and social hour in the Home Economics Department for all participants.

The two dramatic groups also presented the play "Cathy's Choice" in an Education Week student "aud" to emphasize the importance of education.

Turnabout Principal Mark Janke works under the watchful eye of Principal Wayne H. Kincaid with whom he spent the day.

Don White, Nita Horn, Marge Boyd, and Merrie Herbig played roles in "Cathy's Choice," for a student "aud." The cast of "The Green Blackboard," presented at Open House, included Dale Petrie, Judie Blonder, Mike Wallman, and Mark Garringer.

Carol Hill and Marge Boyd, who "replaced" vice-principals, and Mark Janke, who was "principal," discuss their duties for Turnabout Day with Miss Ann Manning, who was Education Week faculty committee member in charge of turnabout teachers.

Opportunity Day Yields Suggestions Galore

Mr. Robert Dunn, Director of Counseling, talks to Senior Joe Tutterrow. Every Manual student is assigned a counselor.

To project the thinking of Manualites to their future vocations, Opportunity Day has become an annual tradition. Set up by the counseling staff, headed by Mr. Robert Dunn, numerous visitors from colleges, businesses, and industries visit the school to brief students on their particular fields.

An awareness of Opportunity Day and its goals is created for Manualites through an auditorium program early in the second semester. Dr. Wesley Haines, president of Franklin College, spoke at this year's session on February 20.

Through Home Rooms everyone made several choices of sessions he preferred to attend. All students were then assigned one of their choices.

Speakers invited are experts because of educational background and experience and their contacts with others in their respective fields.

During high school, Manualites participate in four Opportunity Days and may attend a different type session each year. This provides them with real knowledge of several vocations. Some 50 group meetings were listed on the preference sheets.

Visitors attended a coffee hour in the library when they first arrived and were briefed on the day's activities. Many stayed on after the program and lunched with the faculty in the cafeteria.

ROTC Honorary Cadets served as hostesses for Opportunity Day. Sponsor Karen Dillon greets Mr. Clyde Evans, Christian Theological Seminary, and Mr. Herman Stoelk, Purdue University.

Miss Shirley Kinder, House of James; Sheila Essray, Manual student; and Lori Queisser and Jenny Mervar, Manual grads, work with wigs and falls for the Beauty Culture discussion.

Mr. Nathan Scheib, counselor, who registered all speaker-guests as they entered the library, greets Mr. Robert Desautels, AFNB representative, who signs his "John Henry" and receives his name tag and room assignment for his discussion session.

'TV Stars' Stud Redskin Revue's Winning Act

Mr. William Kleyla directed a Pit Band to provide music for the vocal pieces and chorus line routines in Redskin Revue.

Don Norcross, as "Sterling" Lance Lightning, won the award for Best Male Performer. Joyce Thompson won Best Female Performer.

In the game room of the Soul Boat, are Don Crafton and Rod Lomax, who won Best Group, and Anthony Hollis (front) Best Male Vocalist. Jan Reed won Best Female Vocalist.

Four student-written and -produced acts were presented March 21 and 22 for the Redskin Revue.

"Femme Fatale," written by Seniors Merrie Herbig and Sally Sublett, occurred during the time of struggle for women's rights. Trying to get jobs on a newspaper, the suffragettes used cunning to convince the men of their worth. Mrs. Rebecca Soendlin and Mr. Robert Crawford were sponsors.

Senior Charles Crenshaw and Junior Rod Lomax were authors of "Soul Boat." Action between the Hodge Boys and Kill Brothers took place on a Southern riverboat. There was gambling, a dual, and yet a happy ending to the act. Faculty sponsors were Mr. Robert Healy and Mr. Robert Snoddy.

The Germ Brothers invaded a region of the body and upset the Blood Cells in "It's a Sick, Sick, Sick, Sick World," written by Senior Mark Janke and Junior Norman Zaenglein. Pen E. Cillin came to the rescue and captured the evil germs. Mrs. Martha Cross and Mr. Leland Walter were act sponsors.

Authors of "The Pretty Good, the Fairly Bad, and the Awful Ugly" were Ken Wakefield, Mike Wallman, and Mark Garringer, all seniors. Trying to find a match for Mule, the Cartwheel family got into trouble with "Sterling" Lance Lightning, the hero who finally saved the day. Sponsoring the act were Mr. Dennis Jackson and Mr. Robert Hignite.

Working behind the scenes were Mr. Carl Wright and his stage crew, building sets; Mr. Wendell Mertz and Mr. William Kleyla, handling vocal and instrumental music; and Mr. Fred Bennett, coordinating dramatics for the entire Revue.

"Wild Jill" (Regina Maple), who won Best Comic Portrayal as a capricious vamp, sets out to get her man. Wide-eyed Shy Anne (Denise Durman) looks on in amazement.

The "Mint Julips" won the award for Best Chorus Line with their routine in "Soul Boat." Best Choreographer was Carol Hill in "It's a Sick, Sick, Sick, Sick World."

Best Act Winner for the 1969 Redskin Revue was "The Pretty Good, The Fairly Bad, and The Awful Ugly," written by Ken Wakefield, Mike Wallman, and Mark Garringer. Members of the cast take their places in a Western saloon for the finale, a parody to "The Yellow Rose of Texas."

Variety Spices Redskins' Line Up of Dances

Live music was furnished by the "Idle Few" combo for the mid-winter Roines Romp on January 24. A dance contest with a pair of sectional basketball tickets as the prize was a feature of the evening with many eager swingers participating.

Manual students were kept hopping at a variety of school dances this year. The first dance, sponsored by Roines, featured the "Dawn Five," a popular local band. At their second "Romp" in February, students danced to the "Idle Few." A dance contest, provided sectional tickets for winners.

The annual "Pic Parade," at which underclassmen receive their yearbook pictures, was on November 15. The crowning of King Ivan and Queen Ann was done by Keith Millay, yearbook editor.

Several after-game dances were sponsored by the Student Affairs Board during basketball season. These dances gave fans a chance to relax after an exciting game and also provided them a place to go until "curfew time" sent them home.

The first formal dance of the year was the annual ROTC Military Ball on March 7 at which Sponsor Sharon Tompkins was crowned queen.

Theme for this year's Junior Prom was "Heaven Sent." The formal dance, at Indiana University Med-Center, provided a thrilling climax for juniors.

The John Henry Hop, where students pick up their "Ivians," is always a favorite dance. Everyone is so busy signing yearbooks with "Good Lucks" and "Best Wishes" no one dances.

High school days come to a close for seniors at the Senior Prom. The class of '69 danced at the Indiana Roof to top off their graduation week.

Cutting "chums" at the annual "Pic Parade" for eager dancers is Marilyn Lindstrom. Trading "chums" with classmates and dancing to the latest "discs" provided the entertainment for this Ivian-sponsored dance. Crowned King Ivian and Queen Ann were Steve Brown and Sandee Baker.

Students browse along tables where Metal Shop articles are displayed. The show of talents on the rear wall represents the Art Department with mountings of a variety of pictures.

Lifting the lid to a wooden stereo cabinet, Demetrai Mitchell and Sandy Hodges examine a handsome Wood Shop product.

'Fair' Shows Off 'Bests' from Classrooms

Students' talents are in gear year-round, and when the Projects Fair arrives at the end of the spring semester, all halt for a "show off" time. Each department assembles samplings for both students and visitors to see. Rated on a competitive basis within each department, those products which show outstanding talent and accomplishment are awarded blue, red, or white ribbons.

Poems, essays, and expository writing lined the wall where students with talent for writing showed their work for the English Department.

Industrial Arts students displayed articles constructed for use in the home and work shop. Lamps, cabinets, and ornaments from the Wood Shop, and work tools, name plates, and welding projects from the Metal Shop attracted much attention.

Sixty girls from the Home Economics Department participated in a Style Show to present an array of clothing projects for parents and patrons at a PT-A program. Skirts, blouses, play suits, dresses, and evening gowns were modeled against a red, white, and blue color scheme used on stage in the Auditorium for the Style Show.

The Projects Fair followed its evening debut at the PT-A meeting by opening to Manual students the next morning. Classes, accompanied by teachers, visited for the first four periods so students could see the "bests" in all fields of work. Proud winners viewed their "ribboned" handiwork.

Dozens of English compositions and other literary products line the wall where visitors' attention is easily captured.

Academics

Each Manualite enrolls for at least four credits a semester. The more studious, ambitious ones add extras because Manual's academic program has so much to offer. A comprehensive high school, her curriculum can prepare a Redskin for any college or career school, for the business or trade world, and for homemaking and family living. Four years of study under Manual's skilled teachers is an experience that helps us grow up and readies us for future life.

Our English Classes Prepare Us to Communicate

New grammar and literature books arrived in September for the English Department. A revised curriculum combined the study of grammar, composition, and literature in each semester.

A team teaching class was re-established this year for seniors. Three classes of 30 students each, met as a group once or twice weekly. On other days, each class met as a discussion group under its own teacher of the team of three.

The Humanities class, which studies the development of Western civilization, took field trips to supplement class work. In the fall they visited several museums in Cincinnati and a production of the play, St. Joan. In April they visited Chicago.

English and U.S. History were combined in "Histlish," a special course for juniors. The class correlates American literature and history.

Etymology and Speech helped students become more proficient in using the English language.

At the end of the year, the best written work of the English Department was compiled and published in "Manual Manuscripts," Volume VIII.

Mr. Richard Blough, head of the English Department, lectures to the "team teaching" class. He combined efforts with Mr. John Wells and Mr. Ronald Green to teach three classes as one.

A group of wandering Manualites, during a visit to Cincinnati with their Humanities class, stroll across a bridge over the Ohio River so they can boast they also visited Kentucky. This day of cultural activities broadened their horizons both intellectually and "actually" as several visited two new states.

Through Grammar, Composition, Literature

Practicing proper public speaking techniques, Senior Barbara Kat-tau addresses her Speech class to improve her style and to develop the art of "convincing" her listeners.

Mrs. Rebecca Soendlin discusses a bulletin board display on William Shakespeare with Freshmen Terris Winstead and Debbie Dale who have just finished reading Romeo and Juliet in class.

Giving advice to her English students, Linda Eads and Susie Hittle, is Miss Violet Schonhardt, whose class is meeting in the library to obtain material for a research paper.

Lecturing to English 2 pupils, Mrs. Mildred Haskens guides their use of the freshmen anthology hoping to help them relate their reading to life and to develop better reading habits.

Mexico, Italy Invite Redskins for Language Study

Spanish Students Patti Skidmore and Dale Petrie practice pronunciation with Mr. Carsey Gentry, their teacher.

Foreign language teachers joined traditional methods and audio-lingual methods to create a "middle-of-the-road" effect in their classes. The chief goal of the combination was communication, and it was achieved through the use of new books and an intensified study in all three languages.

The Indiana University Honors Abroad Program gave students a chance to compete for foreign study during the coming summer months. Junior Joyce Thompson, Spanish winner, will spend eight weeks living with a native family in San Luis Potosi, Mexico. Latin winner Robert Steele will travel throughout Italy and Greece during his eight weeks of study in Europe. Serving as an alternate for the Latin Honors Program is Junior Steve Hendricks. KaAnne Morris, in French, and Marilyn Gorbett, in Spanish, were also finalists.

Advanced language classes enjoyed other opportunities brought through their studies. Spanish students went to Clowes Hall to see Man Of La Mancha after they studied Cervantes' Don Quixote. A program by Flamenco dancers also offered Spanish students a chance to observe this native dance.

Miss Ann Manning conducts a group of beginning Spanish students as they learn how to operate the tapes and earphones in the Language Lab. The tapes are used to help build each individual's skill in pronunciation and to foster understanding of the foreign language being studied by the class.

Robert Bauer, Jan Hartsock, Rick Stock, Linda Campbell, Robbyn Wagner, and Debbie Masengale construct a hypothetical city to learn the interrelationship of manufacturing, commercial business, housing, and public utilities in World Geography, a new course taught by Mr. Robert Healy.

Social Studies Ready Us for Citizen's Role

Future citizens took advantage of several Social Studies courses aimed at helping them understand their role in society. Rights and responsibilities as Americans were stressed in Citizenship. Freshmen gain objective views concerning society through the scientific study of man's development in Anthropology. World History was also aimed at man's development from prehistoric days to days of modern society. Psychology classes helped juniors and seniors understand environmental and hereditary factors.

Capitalism and free enterprise were major topics of economics, required for seniors. Students "invested" money in stocks and learned to keep records as stock market prices rose and fell.

Government, another required senior course, presented our democratic system and "American way of life." An understanding of our political traditions was fostered by the national election and the inauguration of President Richard M. Nixon.

United States History, a state requirement for high school graduation, found all juniors enrolled. Some took a combination course — U.S. History and English 5 and 6 — dubbed Histlish by students.

Economic, military, and political problems were discussed in International Relations. Working with simulated countries, foreign policies, defense, and world trade were brought to the classroom.

Library Assistant Debbie Medcalf checks for magazines in the stacks for a student working on a Social Studies project.

'Snakes Alive' Top Interests in Biology Zoo

Bonnie Richards gingerly touches the boa constrictor as Mr. Edward Wall holds it. Fellow biology students Candy Brunner and Phyllis Wolfe look on the scene attentively.

Manual's Science Department aims to give students a general understanding of science and of the natural laws which govern our environment.

Biology students started with the study of the lower life forms, progressed through invertebrates and vertebrates, and finally graduated to man. New this year were 8-millimeter Filmloop Projectors. Students used these individual viewers to examine cell division and photosynthesis.

In Chemistry the world of atoms and molecules received attention. During the second semester, each student progressed at his own rate, and no grades other than checks and minuses were given except at the end of each grading period.

Members of the Earth Science classes participated in a city-wide "Dirty Snow Project." Samples of snow were evaporated, and the dirt that remained showed the pollution the air contained.

This year the traditional Physics course was joined by the Harvard Project Physics. The HPP method uses an historical approach. Pupils start with the earliest scientific thought and progress through the centuries. Along the way they perform such famous experiments as measuring the earth's diameter as Erastostemus did by means of angles.

Sharon Boyd checks her chemistry notes as she and Rick Shrewsbury work on an experiment together. On the other side of the lab table, Neil Kent and Alan Smith assemble materials in preparation of setting up a problem to use for class.

Physical Sciences Teach Natural Principles

Senior Merrie Herbig marks crests on the ripple tank screen as she, David Treeter, and Mark Janke, who is adjusting the light, study wave motion in a physics class.

Robert Stevens shows little emotion as he is given the PPD tuberculin test by Mrs. Florence Miller, public health nurse, in his biology class. Irma Fisher awaits her turn.

Ron Hotseller pulls out a cross section of a styrofoam model of salt ions for Wayne Henke and Debbie Smiley to help with their study of inter-atomic bonds in chemistry.

Mr. Wayne Dunbar, chemistry teacher, explains a problem to Judy Roberts, one of his students, after class. In the foreground is one of the graduated cylinders she is using.

Math Figures 'Large' in Logical Thinking

The Mathematics Department strives to give all Manualites the good basis in math that they will need in later life. This year the department was preparing for extensive revisions in the curriculum. Next year several of the advanced classes will be replaced by a College Algebra course. Many freshmen began their high school career with General Math 1-2. Others, looking to math as a major, took up Algebra 1-2. Geometry 1-2 was the course for many sophomores, and Algebra 3-4 was favored by college-bound juniors.

Several advanced courses were offered after Algebra 3-4. Trigonometry acquainted students with the various functions of triangles. "Trig" is one of the most practical math courses, being used extensively in engineering and surveying.

Solid Geometry took the ideas learned in geometry and extended them to three dimensions.

Algebra and geometry were combined to make Analytic Geometry. In it geometric theorems were proved with algebra and a Cartesian graph system.

Assembling a model of Pascal's Triangle for a Math Department office display are Juniors Patty Nevil and Janet Hoffmeister. The girls made the figure for their Algebra 3 class.

Senior Don Crafton makes a point as he explains the development of a theorem in Solid Geometry to Dave Broughton and Steve Murray. Steve is holding a model of the object. Mr. Fred Ahlemeyer, instructor of this course being offered for the last time, stands by to give help if the boys get stuck.

Business Practices Prove Valuable for Manualites

Classroom activities in Business Education courses were centered on the basic fundamental practices used in the business world. Students who were enrolled in General Business learned about business services and information on procedures. Economic Geography related business with physical and economic factors in man's environment. Office situations presented to students in Office Training gave experience in dealing with every-day office procedures.

Advertising and the use of display methods of making sales to prospective customers were taught in Salesmanship. Business Law gave students the legal aspects of business and the responsibility of a business to the commercial world.

Typing, Secretarial Practice, Shorthand and Filing offered girls who planned to become secretaries and office workers the training and experience needed when employed in a business office.

Other students learn programming techniques, that use computers and punch cards, in Data Processing. The operation of calculators for accuracy in mathematical computation was taught in Machine Calculation. Business Arithmetic taught math skills for personal or office use.

A new bulletin board outside the Business Office door listed opportunities for job hunters.

Listening to their dictaphones, Juniors Debbie Nackenhorst and Gail Towns take dictation in their Shorthand class.

Practicing machine calculations for accuracy are Dale Jones, Marsha Radford, Jerry Flanary, and Judy Wallace.

Watching over her class as they practice typing exercises, Mrs. Phyllis Sullivan waits to give those students who have difficulties advice on how to become skilled typists.

Music Pupils Study for Training and Fun

Band members spent many hours working on music for both marching and concert season. Here focus in on the clarinets.

The Music Department offers courses for those with many different levels of musical ability and for those who just like music. Basic music appreciation, as well as training in vocal and instrumental areas, is the objective of the Department.

This year's Chorus Classes brought together students who enjoyed singing. Members could audition for Boys' Glee Club or the performing organizations, Girls' Glee Club and Choir.

Individuals could obtain help from teachers in a special vocal training class. Music Theory provided students with a study of music composition.

Beginning string, wind, and percussion classes, available to students developing a late interest in instrumental music, helped pupils prepare to "graduate" into Band or Orchestra.

In the fall, all of the music organizations acted together as sponsor of the musical "Brigadoon." The May Music Festival was another joint activity with each performing group having a "solo" part and all Music Department students combining for the finale. This was in the gym to afford as much seating as possible for parents and patrons.

The Marching Band won its fifteenth consecutive First Division and the "Sweepstakes" in the State Music Association Marching Contest.

Mr. Wendell Mertz, director of the Concert Choir, helps two freshmen, Janice Butler and Elaine Eckler, develop their vocal talents. Mr. Mertz used his first hour preparation period to teach a number of students exercises which will prepare them for singing in a performing group.

Artists 'Care Enough,' Win Hallmark Awards

Manual artists won the five "Hallmark" Awards presented in Scholastic Art Awards Competition Regional Contest. This is the first time all of these awards have gone to pupils of one school. All five — Ronnie Ball, Mary Aikman, Robert Bauerle, Janet Clark, and Sharon Moser — were advanced art students of Mrs. Kay Clay. Manualites won 52 awards, including 29 Gold Keys, a giant share for one school.

Craft Arts provides an outlet for creative students who like to work with their hands. This year's classes produced interesting projects, many of which were displayed at the Projects Fair.

Commercial Art students designed posters and other materials which were reproduced for actual use. Sherry Johannes' Redskin Revue program cover and Rick Kizzee's poster were a result of competition among members of this class.

Jewelry pupils made items for themselves, as well as for gifts for parents and friends. Intriguing pieces filled a case for the Fair.

A course in Art Appreciation was introduced into the curriculum during the second semester. A half-credit, one-semester course, it presented art to students not necessarily enrolled in art classes.

An Art II Class works on pencil sketches of a still-life arrangement. The model at the front of the room is spot-lighted to make the light and shadowed areas more pronounced.

David Goff and Guy Inman put finishing touches on their modeling clay projects. Mr. Wayne Spinks supervises the work.

Mrs. Kay Clay watches as Billy Stevenson, a student in her advanced art class, finishes his still-life oil painting.

Home Economics Builds Domestic Talents

Ruth Pruitt works diligently at her sewing machine in a clothing class. All students learn to "sew a fine seam."

Steve Covington, Boys Food class, irons his apron as Mrs. Barbara Anderson, head of the Home Ec Department, watches.

Seniors Debbie Wooden, Marge Boyd, and Judie Blonder look at eggs incubated for an embryo study for Home Nursing class.

Susan Jenkins admires her own handiwork in a Manual display case. Susan made the formal in an Advanced Clothing class.

Students develop skill in sewing and cooking and learn other homemaking responsibilities in a succession of Home Economics classes.

The Advanced Foods classes put their learning into practice this year by planning, preparing and serving teas, brunches, and luncheons for real guests, usually willing faculty members.

By the time a girl has had Advanced Clothing, she has a good background in the use and adjustment of patterns and a workable knowledge of tailoring which she has used in making garments.

Home Nursing is a required course for senior girls because it gives them information every woman should have. Girls learned to care for a patient using proper sick room procedures, and they studied nutrition and planned well-balanced menus. Sex education also figured in their studies.

In co-educational Family Living, outsiders spoke on several occasions to discuss the problems faced in inter-faith and inter-racial marriages. The class also studied budgeting.

Samples of best products from both Clothing and Foods classes represented the Home Economics Department in the Projects Fair.

David Knight shapes and sizes some wood into usable form on a planer, which sands off the raw edges, in Wood Shop.

David Lewis demonstrates the use of a lathe to Ed Civils and Dale Strove as he roughs out his class project in Metal Shop.

Redskins Find Shop-taught Skills Beneficial

Giving students practical experience, Industrial Arts takes skills and classroom learning and develops these for use in industry and such specialized fields as engineering and architecture.

General Shop, which is composed of one semester each of Wood, Metal, Electric, and Machine Shop, provided basic training and experience in the respective areas. Pupils developed their skills and learned safety methods while preparing for more ambitious work in advanced shop courses.

In Auto Shop, theory is put into practice. This advanced class taught students about mechanics as they worked on their own cars.

Printing and Architectural Drawing are other advanced subjects. Print Shop, a two-semester course, stresses as do all advanced programs, learning by practical experience. The Print Shop produced many of the forms used by the school. Pupils worked on the layouts, set the type, and operated the presses. With a background of Mechanical Drawing as a prerequisite, Architectural Drawing provided for design and drafting.

In all courses students work on their own projects, and many were displayed in the "Fair."

Don Briggs and Keith Millay move out into the hall, to make use of the wide open spaces, in order to set up the guide lines they are to use in drawing a two point perspective in Mr. Robert Gallamore's Advanced Architectural Drawing class.

Manual's Military Marches 293 Strong

Parading on Veterans Day in downtown Indianapolis are C/Capt. Karen Dillon, C/Pvt. Steve Short, and C/Maj. James Ongley.

Manual's Military Science Department, one of the largest in the city this year, has also been one of the busiest units in the city. Beginning in November, Manual's 293 cadets and ten ROTC sponsors participated in the Veterans Day Parade. This was also the time of year for drill meets. Manual's Trick Drill Team, under the command of C/Maj. James Ongley, placed fifth in the annual VFW Drill Meet, staged on the War Memorial Plaza.

The Varsity Rifle Team also had a good year with a record of 7-3. During the season the team traveled to Culver, Indiana, to participate in the NRA State Rifle Match. The Indianapolis All-Stars defeated the Varsity team from Culver Military Academy. This had not been done for more than ten years. This team consists of the top firers from all units in the city schools. Cadet Lt. Gaylen Fox was a member of this elite squad. Captain of Manual's team is C/Lt. George Burns.

One of the highlights of the school year was the Annual Military Ball. This year advertising was sold in the programs to help finance the dance. Queen Of The Ball was C/Maj. Sharon Tompkins. Also active in school events was the Color Guard. Under the command of C/Capt. James McDaniel, this group presented colors for school programs.

Because of increased enrollment in the ROTC, new equipment was bought. This included new rifle cases, mitts, and two new match rifles.

'Phys Ed' Focuses on Health, Driving, Calisthenics

The Physical Education Department developed both mind and body while providing students with practical knowledge and experience in such classes as Health and Driver Education.

Health, a required course of all senior boys, not only covered traditional material, but also concentrated on many social problems of the day such as mental illness, alcoholism, and narcotics.

Driver Education, a useful and practical course, taught students good safety habits and rules of the road in the classroom; at the same time, it provided them with behind the wheel practice. Each student was given the opportunity to improve his skills every third day by gaining driving experience in one of the schools duo-control cars. Nearby Garfield Park served as an excellent proving ground and parking set up for beginners.

Girls' gym emphasized poise and physical fitness while providing fun in the process. Weather permitting, the girls took to the outdoors, playing softball or flying kites. Advanced classes went beyond the regular tumbling and calisthenics. Many students in the advanced curriculum took part in games, and some were given the opportunity to make up their own movements on the "dance" floor in modern dance.

Boys' gym classes cover a wide range of gymnastic and sports fields. During the semester students were given the chance to "test" and improve their skills in wrestling, weight lifting, decathlon events, and all sports-related activities.

Activities

The happiest Manualites mix fun with work. They don't let their school day end at three o'clock but are active in clubs and organizations of varied interests. Many Redskins have earned membership in honoraries because of outstanding service, and many have gained "fame" among their peers for super performance in school productions. Working or playing together, students gain a sense of loyalty and comradeship and become imbued with the true Redskin spirit.

Services, Entertainment to Manualites

Senior Honorary organizations since 1914, Masoma and Roines again this year filled their service records with helpful activities. Working together, the two groups helped with freshmen orientation the first day of school last September. For the Alumni Birthday Party in February, Masomas were dinner hostesses, and Roines checked coats. At Christmas time, the clubs caroled for shut-ins, nursing homes, and a near-by orphanage.

Masoma projects throughout the year included serving at the Fall Athletic Banquet and ushering for the Junior League Theater. Distributing Mums for Homecoming and making corsages for Mothers' Night at the last home basketball game were other activities. Their annual Rummage Sale provided funds for their "Clothe a Child" project at Christmas. Their Pow Wow booth was "Squirt the Flirt."

Roines entertained Manualites with three "Romps," all successful. A weekly project for the boys was filling the coke machine in the faculty lounge. Assembling the Christmas wreath for the front of the building is an annual Roines activity. From evergreen branches, the boys constructed the huge wreath and strung it with colored lights. The "Roines Rinse" at the Pow Wow attracted many Redskins who found fun in hitting the bulls-eye with a baseball to plunge a boy into a tub of water.

National Honor Society Adds 24 Members

Judie Blonder, Monica Bibbs, Marge Body, Don Norcross, Ken Wakefield, and Mark Janke, who assisted with the ribbon ceremony, pose in front of the emblem of National Honor Society.

The Manual Chapter of the National Honor Society initiated fourteen juniors and fourteen seniors this year. The number of new members brought the total membership to forty-two.

The faculty evaluated students eligible in scholarship — a 6.75 grade point average for juniors, and a 6.25 average for seniors — in the additional areas of service, leadership, and character. Membership of Junior Class was limited to three percent and, Seniors, ten percent.

During a "ribbon ceremony" March 19, the names of pledges to the Honor Society were read, and each person was characterized in verse. Active members of the Society presented each newly elected junior and senior with a cluster of ribbons signifying the four qualities for membership.

President Don Norcross administered the National Honor Society oath to all active members and pledges at the formal initiation, May 11. Four active members of the Society explained the color symbolism — gold, scholarship; royal purple, leadership; red, service; and white, character.

The ceremony ended with each new member lighting a portion of the Honor Society torch.

Student Board Pushes 'Get with It' Drive

Larry Cooney, president, presided over the bi-weekly meetings of the Student Affairs Board during the year. SAB, a group of class representatives sponsored many school activities and worked to coordinate the activities of the students with those of the administration.

The Board was again sponsor for several after-game dances during the basketball season. Members also chose to sponsor the Popularity Contest for the P-TA Pow Wow in April and supervised the nomination of two candidates for each class.

A new project was the suggestion "Tee Pee." Students were invited to offer suggestions for school improvements or changes they felt were desirable by writing them out and depositing them in the miniature Tee Pee in the bookstore.

SAB's most important activity was its work with the Marion County Guide Council. Under the direction of Debbie Bowles, a Board representative to the Council, members put up posters and distributed buttons with the slogan "Get With It" for the youth Anti-Crime campaign.

A reward to SAB members for all their efforts came at the end of the year with a fun outing.

Actors and Stage Crews

Thespians, Mask and Wig, and the Stage Crew followed a full schedule of producing plays this year. Learning lines and stage directions, for the actors, and building sets, for the Stage Crew, took many hours not included in the school day.

Thespians, an honorary dramatics club, and Mask and Wig, the play producing group of the school, sponsored "Theater '68" in October. It featured one-act plays, "The Beauty Parade," "The Dancers," and "The Death of an Old Man."

During National Education Week, Thespians, sponsored by Mr. Fred Bennett, took roles in the plays "Cathy's Choice" and "The Green Black board," presented at Open House and for an auditorium program. In addition to assisting with holiday convocations, Thespians organized a Children's Theater for near-by elementary schools.

At the twice-a-month meetings, Thespians re-established a program of study of dramatics. Members practiced stage movements and voice control, and did cuttings from various plays.

The Stage Crew, supervised by Mr. Carl Wright, built all of the sets for stage productions. Their "masterpiece" this year was the raked set for "The Miracle Worker." It was a two story platform which tilted forward to make the action at back stage seeable. Tim Dale, student manager, worked out many of the stage mechanics.

Working on sets for the 1969 Redskin Revue are Karen Penniston, Bill Davis, Debbie Dale, and Dennis Myrick, members of the stage crew that builds props for most Manual productions.

'The Manual Booster'

"Where's your story?" was a familiar cry on Thursday and Friday afternoons in the Publications Office as editors and reporters scurried to put out each issue of the Booster. Both paper and staff gathered many honor, not the least of which was an International Honor Rating from Quill and Scroll, honor society for high school journalists.

A Freedoms Foundation George Washington Honor Award and $100 were the result of an article written last year by Jackie Jung on freedom.

Page 2 Editor Marge Boyd won the Dorothy Teal Award for the Best Editorial at the IU Journalism Institute in the summer. Later, at the Indiana High School Press Association Convention, she won an electric typewriter for Best Cover Story of Mr. Carl T. Rowan, keynote speaker.

Local, state, and national citations were awarded the Booster for articles informing students of the dangers of TB and other respiratory diseases. Kathy Gabonay's feature on the dangers of smoking won a cup for Best Feature Story.

January saw journalists attending the Quill and Scroll Press Day, where Manual agreed to host next year's meeting. Members of the Booster staff were present at the Ball State Press Day in April.

Ivian Puts Photos Together for Year of 'You'

Assistant Ivian Editor Shirley Craig confers with Editor-in-Chief Keith Millay as they sort out and arrange those many important photos which "Picture You" for '69.

Senior Editor Debbie Wooden looks over yearbook panels with Advertising Manager Janet Hoffmeister, Carolyn Harding, a copy writer, and Marilyn Lindstrom, faculty editor.

Armed with pencils and paper and all the enthusiasm of an "inspired staff," the Ivian editors, photographers, and copy writers dug in for the year-long task of collecting and arranging the events and facts which made up the 1969 "picture."

In preparation for the big job facing them, Editor Keith Millay and Shirley Craig attended the Indiana University Journalism Institute during the summer. There many of the plans for the '69 book were drawn up, innovations discussed, and the central theme to tie the book together decided.

Among the most important staffers were the photographers who took pictures of various school events and, at times, became a bit artistic. Bill Hancock and Rick Shrewsbury were snapping classroom scenes and activities all year long, and, with the help of Stieff Copeland, covered all sports. Editor Keith, a four-year shutterbug, supervised.

The sales campaign literally started off with a bang as the "1968 Redskin Convention" was called to order. The Ivian was unanimously nominated as "book of the year" and all "party members" were encouraged to hurry to an agent to buy one.

Underclassmen received their pictures at the "Pic Parade" in November. Highlight of the dance was crowning of Sandee Baker and Steve Brown as "King Ivan" and "Queen Ann," the Ivian's own royalty.

Climaxing a year of hard work and unveiling the "top secret" cover came when students received their '69 Ivians at the John Henry Hop in May.

"Will the 1968 Convention of the Redskin Party please come to order" shouts Chairman Mark Garring as the Ivian campaign for '69 was kicked off in an auditorium program.

WMHS, 'Citizens,' Debaters—All Have a Say

Promptly at 7:45 each morning, radio station WMHS went on the air to provide music, news, weathers and sports for teachers and students before school. The station, which broadcasts over the PA system, was entirely run by students. Radio clubbers learned about all aspects of radio communications, from announcing to engineering. In addition to the actual broadcast of the "Morning Show," members met after school each week to plan program material and shifts and to deal with any problems that came up in station operation.

Citizen's League members furthered their interests in Social Studies in several ways throughout the school year. In January the Leagers went on a field trip to the World War Memorial and other places of historical interest in downtown Indianapolis. The club was represented in the annual Indiana Historical Society Meeting at Spring Mill State Park this spring. At their meetings, every other week, members learned about government operations and elections through speakers and films.

Meeting bi-weekly, Manual's Debate Club learned rules of debate from Mr. Robert Healy, their sponsor. Although there were no contests with other schools, the debaters were kept busy at their meetings arguing the pros and cons of various subjects. For the second year the club sponsored an Extemporaneous Speech contest for Manual students. Participants had to speak on a subject unknown to them until the time of the competition.

Announcers Harry Stafford and Mike Wallman look over script they use in their daily broadcasts from the WMHS studio.

Citizen's League officers Claude Miller, Leslie Cooper, Elaine LeBoutillier, and Tim Mogle meet with President Debbie Wooden to go over the agenda for the club's next meeting.

Musicians Perform for School, Community

Five instrumentalists — David Hummel, Jan Yocum, Phyllis Wolfe, Marge Boyd, and Don Young — combine talents as a group which plays for civic functions. Mr. Thomas Dick directs.

The four performing groups of the Music Department have presented programs for both school and civic affairs throughout the years.

Together the Concert Choir and Orchestra entertained at their annual concert in January. Directed by Mr. Wendell Mertz, Choir was also active caroling downtown at Christmas and singing for the All-City Choir Festival, Vespers, and Graduation. With Mr. Thomas Dick directing, the Orchestra played for Teachers' Institute, the Alumni Birthday Party, and Night School Commencement.

Also combining forces for a concert were the Band and Girls' Glee Club. The marching Band, led by Drum Major Gordon Mills, put on shows for football games and marched in parades. As a concert Band, under Mr. William Kleyla, they performed for Graduation. The Glee Club, directed by Mrs. Martha Cross, sang for the Thanksgiving and Ivian auditoriums and, the Honors Day program.

Clubs Aid 'Bi-linguists' in Their Second Tongue

The Latin Club has reorganized after six years because Latin students wanted to study Roman culture from angles other than those studied in class. The new club, christened "The Roman Forum," is sponsored by Mrs. Audry Cronkhite. The officers received new names such as Junior or Senior Imperator. The Scriba and Quaestor, sounding very Roman, add authenticity. Members, past and present Latin students, meet every other Friday.

Members of Spanish Club, sponsored by Mr. Carsey Gentry, had a common desire in mind: to speak Spanish better and to take part in activities that contribute to their knowledge of Spanish culture. These varied from pinatas to music.

Christmas provided a convenient excuse for having a party which was typical of such a celebration in any Spanish speaking country. Games and activities were topped off with breaking the pinata.

Guests added interest to the many meetings. Mr. Robert Snoddy, English teacher, entertained with his Spanish Flamenco Guitar, and Mrs. Graciela Spencer of the "Little Bit of Mexico" shop displayed various items from her shop. Her summer in Spain was the subject of Miss Ann Manning, Spanish teacher; and David Treeter, who was in Italy on Honors Program last summer, spoke.

Latin Club's Senior Imperator Sharon Boyd and Mrs. Audry Cronkhite, club sponsor, discuss important club business.

It's "show and tell" time for Spanish Club as Seniorita Ann Manning, a Spanish teacher, displays her souvenirs, brought back from her summer in Spain. Club members were entertained with a narrative by Seniorita as she pointed out on the map the places she visited and recounted her travels and experiences while studying there for eight weeks.

Thinkers Enjoy Deeper Dip into Math, Science

Highlighted by guest speakers, films, debates, and demonstrations, the Science Club met every two weeks for scientifically inclined students. Two outstanding lectures during the year included a laser demonstration by Bell Labs and an exhibition by Union Carbide on cryogenics, the science of super-cold. The club also took a field trip to the planetarium at Arlington High School. This year's Officers were Mike Wallman, president; Dick Ross, vice-president; and Harry Stafford, Secretary.

Math club provided the good math student with additional information and knowledge in the field of mathematics not covered in the classroom. Meeting each week, the club worked on many different types of math problems and exercises and planned activities throughout the year such as a Christmas party and field trips.

With a new constitution and point system this year, Chess Club met each week to help students interested in the game of chess improve their playing and take part in tournaments within the school. Mark Garringer, president of the club during the year, was responsible for the new point system. With the new system, each player started out with 100 points and lost ten percent of these points to the other player for each loss.

A circle is at issue for Mr. Harold Baumer, Math Club sponsor; Kathy Gabonay, Tim Updike, Gerald Tompson, and Cheryl Hope.

Various guest speakers such as Mr. Bruce Grosvenor of Union Carbide added interest to the activities of the Science Club.

Norman Zaenglein, Chess Club member, contemplates his Kings and Pawns as he plans his next strategic move. Each move takes planning and forethought for him to "check" his opponent.

Lookers to Future Study Teaching, Business

Barbara Kattau, Barbara Kottlowski, and Greg Roberts, Future Teachers of America, look through magazines for help.

The Future Business Leaders of America, sponsored by Mrs. Irma Farthing, discover what is going on in today's business world. Guest speakers this year informed members about preparation for employment. Field trips gave the FBLAers an opportunity to see business in action and compare their own preparation gained through the classroom with the activities they observed. The Honor Roll charts on bulletin boards in every Home Room were products of the Future Business Leaders' work. These gave recognition to students for scholastic achievement. The club maintains its own bulletin board outside the Business Education Office to display pictures and job information. A roster of members lets passersby know the active members.

Many Manualites who are interested in teaching are members of Future Teachers of America. Sponsored by Miss Margaret Consodine, this club discussed the problems and advantages of the teaching profession. Films aided members in learning what motivates and makes a good teacher. Among its many projects, the organization made name tags for all faculty members to wear for Open House and during the rest of American Education Week.

Greg Roberts and Elizabeth Trantham, members of Future Business Leaders of America, discuss uses of data processing, displaying a chart which categorizes them. Among the club's many activities throughout the year was a trip to Indiana Bell Telephone Company. They also sent gifts to servicemen in Vietnam to brighten Christmas.

Kathy Payne, Janice Butler, Miracle Dunlop, Bev Butler, Sharon May, Janet Webber, and Sheila Quillen work on place mats to be used on Easter Sunday in children's wards in city hospitals. Members of Manual's Red Cross do many charitable projects to aid the ill and lonely.

Health Careers Club, Red Cross Learn Service

The purpose of the Health Careers Club is to bring together young people who are interested in obtaining information about careers associated with the medical profession. The club offers persons the chance to identify their aptitudes.

During the year, members took field trips, viewed films on different health careers, and invited speakers to come to meetings for special presentations. In addition to their own social activities, the club did volunteer community service. Sponsoring the club was Mrs. Virginia Defourneaux.

The Junior Red Cross Club is a service organization for Community Agencies. Members baked cookies and collected used toys for the Protestant Children's Home. At Easter, the club members made place mats for children's wards in the city hospitals; and during the Junior Red Cross Drive, members collected funds. In May the club sponsored a party for the children at the Home. Mrs. Frances Campbell is advisor to Red Cross.

The STOPS Club, sponsored by Miss Mary Lockwood, is a challenge to overweight people. In weekly meetings, members studied foods in relation to diet, did exercises, hiked, and weighed each week.

Kathy and Michele Kuchler and Charlotte Whitney, Health Careers Club, pack toys for mental hospital's "gift shop."

Y-Affiliates Brighten Lives of Others

Kathy Knapp, Charline Stofer, Carolyn Frazee, and Marie Ball, all Tri-Hi-Y officers, discuss plans for club activities.

The Manual Chapter of Y-Teens, sponsored by the YWCA, kept a busy schedule this year serving others. President Jane Davis, Vice-president Carla Cannon, Secretary Cheryl Dearing, Treasurer Charlene Crenshaw, and Historian Donna Pfender worked with Miss Judith Sehr, sponsor. The Y-Teens helped an underprivileged child through their project "Clothe-A-Child for Easter." They also donated a basket of food to a needy family for Thanksgiving. Money for these projects was obtained from a candiesale and a club-sponsored Tupperware party, along with club dues.

Derbies for Sectional goers were in order again as Tri-Hi-Y set up a sales table in the auditorium foyer and doled out the white-banded red hats, so popular several reorders were picked up at the distributors by the Driver Education car. At Christmas the club collected food to help a needy family have a pleasant holiday. They also made Valentines Day place mats for use on dinner trays at the Garfield Park Nursing Home near-by on Shelby Street.

Officers are President Carolyn Frazee, Vice-president Cheryl Cox, Secretary Marie Ball, Treasurer Charline Stofer, Historian Rose Richmond, Chaplain Kathy Knapp, Viola Hyndman, Sponsor.

Miss Hwa Bong, YWCA sponsor of Manual's Y-Teens, serves punch to members and guests at a Tea to promote membership among girls of the Freshman Class.

Artists Develop Talents, Printers, Their Craft

Meeting weekly in the Print Shop with, Mr. Marvin Thorpe, the Future Printers of America carried on activities that furthered their knowledge of the printing industry and provided them experience. Guest speakers from various printing plants and affiliated businesses gave an insight into the profession. Members also took field trips to see these firms in operation. Sweatshirts bearing a Redskin profile and Manual penants were silk screened by members to sell to fellow students through their own salesmen and the bookstore. The club also produced Senior Armbands from the design of Ron Ball, made in Commercial Art Class.

Another weekly club is made up of artists. Members took advantage of using art rooms and equipment to pursue projects too large or complicated to work on in a regular class. Under the supervision of Mr. James Weaver, their sponsor, this year's art enthusiasts carried on a variety of interests: oil painting, plaster carving, modeling, and craft projects. New this year was a try at artistic photography. Borrowing Publications' darkroom, they developed and printed their own pictures.

At the Pow Wow, both of these clubs had booths which involved many of the members.

Working on semester projects are Art Club Members Charles McFarland, molding clay, and Richard Patterson, doing an oil.

FPA members — Jerry Butler, Debbie Spaulding, Tom Maier, Charles Mullenix, and Greg Shelton — check their results on the printing of one of the Manual Redskin Sweatshirts done by the silk-screen process. Selling these is their main money-making project. Club members take orders for the shirts, and a number are also available in the bookstore.

Athletics

Whether an active participant or an avid spectator, every Manual-ite has his place in the school's athletic program. Block M's, won in major sports, are plentiful on Fridays — Letter-sweater day; and enthusiasm for the Redskin cause sparks other students to be cheering fans among whom "laryngitis" is often prevalent after a varsity encounter. Intramural sports are popular among both boys and girls, and "co-ed" bowling attracts a crowd of eager keglers.

Grid Season Succumbs to 'Growing Pains'

Dave Burton exhibits fine running ability as he leaves two of the Redskins' opponents behind before scoring a touchdown.

Manual's Varsity Football Squad closed the grid season with a 0-9-1 record — the worst since the '59 Redskins had the same standing.

Head Coach Noah Ellis worked with a Varsity squad composed mostly of sophomores and juniors, who, it is hoped, will grow in size and gain weight before next season. Lack of brawn was a handicap.

Against nine defeats, the 'Skins lone tie came with Tech, 14-14, when Bob Bruce picked up a Titan fumble in the last seconds of the game and ran it back 70 yards to prevent another loss.

Starting the season off the wrong way, the 'Skins were left behind by Kennedy, 13-0, and Washington 39-7. Manual's lone touchdown was a pass from Steve Brown to Dave Burton.

Howe and Cathedral next blanked Manual 40-0 and 26-0, respectively, as the Redskins' offense lost its potency against the larger opponents.

Before season end, Arlington, Broad Ripple, Southport, Wood, and Columbus downed the 'Skins with an offensive total of 107 points to Manual's 40. The 'Skins did well to rack up that many points.

In the grid contest against the Golden Knights of Arlington, Gary Cannon scored Manual's only touchdown, plunging from the two-yard line. Joe Koenig added the PAT for the 'Skins.

The Redskin Marching Band always returns to school down Madison Avenue for disassemble in the band room after a football game. The band performed a half-time show at each home game. After a winning game, traditionally the band wears their hats backwards to show victory. The tie game with Tech was the only occasion for it this year.

Gary Cannon, one of Manual's "surprising sophomores," brings down a tough Redskin opponent behind the line of scrimmage to stop a drive. Underclassmen were most important!

Broad Ripple's Rockets upset Manual's Homecoming by a lopsided score of 35-7. Burton found the only touchdown for the Redskins in the second quarter from four yards out. Cannon added the PAT for the 'Skins. Halftime score was encouraging, 14-7.

The Southport Cardinals also marked up a victory over the Redskins by a single touchdown decision of 7-0. The Woodchucks of Harry Wood found their first victory of the season over Manual, 12-6. Redskin Signal-caller Steve Brown ran one yard around end for the 'Skins' only score.

The Redskins closed their season falling to the Columbus Bulldogs 33-20. Manual, playing at Columbus, scored late in the first stanza with a 15-yard run by Cannon and then went ahead in the second quarter with Burton plunging in from a yard out to cap a 7-yard drive. Richard Eads scored from a yard out in the fourth quarter, but the 'Skins couldn't find victory with the Bulldogs.

The '68 Varsity Football Squad was probably one of the smallest teams ever coached by Mr. Ellis.

Handicapped by inexperience and size, the Redskins face a rebuilding year for the '69 grid season. But with last year's sophomores and juniors returning to next year's squad, an interesting future with an improved record is anticipated.

"Almost daytime" lights were installed at Delavan Smith Field this year. Each six 80-foot pole holds 32 1,500-watt lamps.

Quarterback Steve Brown starts a decisive Redskin drive by picking up the necessary yardage for a hard-earned first down.

Dave Burton, Gary Smiley, and Steve Brown "double their efforts" in breaking up a long pass early in a game.

Redskin Reserves Tip Record to Win Side

This year Reserve football players were divided into two teams for the first time in order to get more boys to stay out. This new experimental football plan gave all boys a chance to play; this will hopefully make them better next year.

Combining their efforts, the Redskin Reserves had a 3-2 record. In their opener, they defeated Indian Creek, 35-0. Manual looked impressive as Indian Creek was held to only three first downs. The next victim was Southport, and the Cardinals fell 13-6 in a hard-fought contest.

The first Redskin loss was to the Chartrand Rams, 40-0. The 'Skins bounced back in their next contest to defeat Franklin Central, 19-7. In their last game, the Reserves lost to Columbus 14-0.

The Freshmen ended the season winning their last four games to give them a 5-4 record. An outstanding team, we can expect much from them next year as they move up to other teams.

Senior Mark Janke Gains Harrier MVP Title

Senior Mark Janke, voted Cross Country's MVP, rounds a curve on the Manual course as he practices for an upcoming meet.

Coach Al Pike and the Varsity Cross Country team found themselves on the short side of a 4-7 record last fall. Their season was better, however, than their record would indicate because several of the losses were to such top-ranked squads as Southport, North Central, Cathedral, and Tech.

The Harriers fared about the same in the Invitationals they entered. In Pike High School's "Kokum Kareem," they finished tenth of thirteen teams; they soon improved and finished fourth out of eleven at Seccina. In Southport's Invitational they came in sixth out of twelve; at Howe, seventh out of fifteen; and at Northwest, sixth of twelve. The City Meet saw the 'Skins gain a seventh of fifteen. In the Sectional Manual had one of its best showings, running sixth in a field of twenty-one schools.

In a Seniors-only race at Northwest, Mark Janke, Steve Adams, and Charlie Wheeler ran to fifteenth, eighteenth, and twenty-second, respectively.

Jeff Adams and Blake Housam also performed well this year and should lead next year's team.

The Reserves ended their year with a 7-4 record. In the City Meet, Birl Schilling led Manual to third out of nine teams. The Freshman squad closed with a 4-1 slate. Daryl Short and Terry Winstead paced the team to finish fourth of ten in the City.

Varsity Cross Country — FRONT ROW: Franklin Baecher, Dan McDonald, Dave Adams, Blake Housam, Jeff Adams, Mark Janke. Sophomore Chuck Stubbs and Senior Steve Adams board Manual's new bus for a Cross Country meet. The bus, purchased by the school this year to replace an older vehicle, is used by all teams, music groups, and classes on field trips.

Jeff Adams, Steve Adams, and Mark Janke, Cross Country's Top Three, practice running in a pack, the technique that helped the team win several meets this year. The three usually led the rest of Manual's squad throughout the season.

FRESHMAN CROSS COUNTRY —

James Jimison, Bob Kleis, and Karlo Tutt were three outstanding grapplers in the '68-'69 season. Only Bob graduates.

Bob Kleis 'Wrestles' Way to State Finals

The Varsity Wrestling squad closed its season with a 6-8 record. Though the squad didn't make a good showing as far as regular season action was concerned, several grapplers provided some interesting matches throughout the year.

Senior Bob Kleis compiled 24 consecutive wins, beating the school record of 23 set in 1959 by Bill Andrews. Bob also won the Regional championship in the 133-pound class. In the State semifinals he met his first loss, by being pinned by Warren Gamble of Gary Mann. Bob compiled a 39-4 record in his last two years of Varsity wrestling.

Other varsity standouts were Bill Kleis, who placed second in his class at Sectional, Bob Brunnemer, who placed third in the Sectional, Curtis Richardson, Bodo Schick, and LaNathan Norris.

Though the loss of Bob Kleis will be greatly felt, Coach Jack Foster has several promising returnees including Schick, Brunnemer, Bill Kleis, Norris, Mike Crafton, Wayne Shaw, John Short.

The Reserve Squad, under Coach Al Pike, slated a 7-7 record behind the power of Jeff Adams, Alberto Leon, John McIntire, Albert Munn.

Coach Robert Hignite lead his 5-1 Frosh to third place in City Tournament action. Undefeated Karlo Tutt was the team's standout with a first place in his wieght class in the City. Other standouts were James Jimison, Bill Hafer, and Terry Willis.

The Varsity Cheerleaders backing up the teams this year were Ruthie Smith, Sally Stellhorn, Regina Maple, Sandee Baker, Mascot Alice Wheeler, and Sandy Robinson.

Teams of Cheerleaders

Twenty-one red and white clad cheerleaders boosted school spirit this year. The cheerleaders attended every football and basketball game, both home and away, encouraging the teams. They showed enthusiasm and school spirit by attending cross country, track, and baseball games also.

A busy schedule was kept by the squads beginning last summer when five varsity cheerleaders — Sandee Baker, Regina Maple, Sandy Robinson, Ruthie Smith, and Sally Stellhorn — attended cheerleading camp at Vincennes University. At camp, the girls learned new cheers perfected their skills.

Reserve cheerleaders attending camp were Debbie Baker, Ilze Berzins, Kathy Reed, Nancy Seyfried, and Vicki Steele. These girls cheered Reserve teams in football and basketball.

All these squads, plus the Frosh, made posters and signs which they put up throughout the school, to spark fans and team spirit. The girls also planned Pep Sessions to boost school morale.

The cheerleaders wound up their activity-filled year sponsoring a booth at P-TA Pow Wow, with the help of Mrs. Ann Kloote, their sponsor, and Miss Kathy Lawrie, the Pep Club sponsor.

They were honored at the annual Spring Athletic Banquet and at an all-school assembly where they received pins, letters, and sweaters, according to their participation in the year's program.

Varsity Cheerleaders — Sandee Baker, Regina Maple, Sandy Robinson, Sally Stellhorn, and Ruthie Smith — boost school spirit on Mothers' Recognition Night. The mothers of the basketball teams were presented red and white corsages by the cheerleaders. Mothers' Recognition Night has become an annual event at Manual.

Stir Up the Fans for Redskin Backing

Freshmen Cheerleaders sparked enthusiasm at frosh football and basketball games this year. They are Janet Elrod, Judy Steele, Sandy Spaulding, Debbie Skipworth, Cheryl Watson, Suzy Hafer, Doris Stokes, and Candy Collier. The girls cheered the teams on to winning seasons.

Special cheerleaders backed the Wrestling teams for the first time. They were Janet Eader, Debbie Cook, JoEllen Graham, Miss Kathryn Lawrie, sponsor; and Cindy Kellenburger.

The Reserve Cheerleaders — Kathy Reed, Debbie Baker, Vicki Steele, Debbie Smith, Ilze Berzins, and Nancy Seyfried — followed the "B" teams at both basketball and football games.

"Flying" Jeff McGuire lets fly with the ball for two points as he shows the ability which enabled him to be voted MVP.

Roundball Varsity Team

Manual's Varsity Basketball Squad closed its '68-'69 season under first year Head Coach Fred Belser with a 9-11 record. The nine victories tripled last year's wins, as the 'Skins placed eleventh out of 18 teams in the final city standings.

Manual started the season off the hard way — playing their games in overtime. The 'Skins downed Northwest, 67-66, in overtime, but then fell to Cathedral in the same situation, 59-53. They then won a pair from Kennedy and Terre Haute Gerstmeier, dropping the latter in three overtimes, 61-59.

The 'Skins lost their next two outings to New Albany (in overtime, 72-63) and to Columbus, won two games from Wood and Lawrence Central, 78-76, and lost to '69 State Champ Washington.

Manual next picked up a win, downing Broad Ripple, 57-51, but lost the next two games to North Central and Tech. Gary Short led the 'Skins against the Panthers with 31 points for the team effort. Arlington and Southport, but falling to Warren Central, Shortridge, and Howe.

In the City Tournament, Manual downed Wood, 67-63, in the opener, earning the right to play Cathedral in the final game. The Irish outlasted the 'Skins to win the city title, 67-64.

The Redskins tallied a total of 1,309 points during the season for an average of 65 a game, while holding their opponents to 1,366 points.

Sparkling enthusiasm at basketball games, the Pep Band played popular tunes to which spirited Redskins swayed and clapped and the Pep Club did routines. Their "uniforms" are white, red-trimmed jackets, black slacks, red berets, and red socks.

Triples Wins of Last Year for Upward Trend

In the Southport Sectional, the 'Skins fell to the tough Cardinals, 77-71. Manual had downed Southport a week earlier, 75-70. The score was tied at the first stop, 15-15; but the Redskins were outscored, 24-17, in the second period.

Manual was led in shooting by Junior Gary Short, who averaged 17 points a game. Against Lawrence Central, Wood, and Southport, he had game highs of 30 points in each contest. Following Gary were Senior Jeff McGuire and Junior Roger Davis, averaging around 15 points a game.

Other valuable players were Garry Neumeyer and Joe Tutterrow — two seniors who were sharp ball handlers. Other important Redskin players were Joe Koenig, Mark Hedegard, and Steve Brown. Steve received his jacket at the close of the season because of accumulated points.

Receiving the award for the Most Valuable Player was McGuire, while Short received a trophy for highest percentage of free throws made. Both were named on the Sectional Teams.

Starters, Eric Frey, Albert Gurley, Gary Short, and Roger Davis will return next year. Adding back-up help from Pat Cobb, Mike Tyree, and Wayne Major, for Coach Belser's second year.

Reserve Ball Provides Experience for 'Sophs'

A leading scorer and an outstanding rebounder, Junior Roger Davis fakes his man for another one of his many inside shots.

Under the reins of new Reserve Coach Bill Rosenstihl, the Reserve basketball squad finished out in the '68-'69 season with an 8-12 record.

The Reserves got off to a slow start as they lost seven of their first eight games. These losses were to Northwest, Cathedral, Gerstmeier, Columbus, New Albany, Broad Ripple and North Central. The 'Skins first victory came in the third game as they routed Kennedy 54-35.

After a five game slump, the Reserves seemed to come alive as they won five consecutive games. They started this winning streak by defeating Wood, 42-41, Lawrence Central, 49-38, and Ben Davis, 50-38. Manual's next two victims were Washington whom they defeated 48-45, and Arlington they downed, 45-40. The Tech Titans stopped this string of victories with an easy 54-38 win.

Manual's Reserves entered the City Tourney with a 6-8 record and a chance of winning the title. In their first appearance the 'Skins squeezed by Ritter, 56-48, in a thrilling double overtime. Manual faced Marshall next, and the Redmen were knocked out of the running by a 40-37 count.

Warren Central nipped Manual, 36-34, in the final seconds of the next regular game. Shortridge also defeated the Reserves, but Manual gave City Champ Howe a 54-48 scare. In their final game, the Redskins handed Southport a 52-48 loss.

The Freshman squad, coached by Mr. Clark Dickerson, had an 11-9 record. In their first three games, the Frosh defeated Shortridge, Wood, and Marshall. Next they lost to Kennedy, Washington, Tech, and Pike. In the City Tourney, Manual beat Ritter and Northwest but fell to Tech. In other regular games, losses were to Broad Ripple and Arlington. The season ended with five consecutive wins including one over City Champ Cathedral.

MVP Lenny Brown Leads

The 1968 Redskin Track Team ended its year with an 8-7 record — the twelfth winning season in a row. Led by MVP Lenny Brown, the “Thinlies” racked up a total of 934 points to their opponents’ 835. The season brought Coach “Moe” Moriarty’s Manual record to 118 victories against 50 losses.

Manual clobbered Bloomington University in the first meet, 102-16. The Redskins then went on to defeat such talented rivals as Chartrand, Seccina, Marshall, Arlington, Cathedral, Broad Ripple, and Wood. In the Tech Relays, the mile relay team ran to third place. Alan Jay came in third in the low hurdles; Mike Lock, fourth in high hurdles; Lenny Brown, fourth in the 220-yard run; and Chuck Penniston placed sixth in the shot put.

The City Meet found Manual eleventh of fifteen entries. Bill Calhoun, Jay, and Brown won fifths in pole vault, low hurdles, and 220-yard run.

The Redshins fared better in the Franklin Sectional, finishing eighth of twenty-three. The mile relay team, made up of Lenny Brown, Alan Jay, Walt Jimison, and Charlie Wheeler, placed second in that event. In so doing they shattered the old school record by three seconds with a 3:28.1 clocking. The next week the same relay team ran to fifth in the Regional at Tech with a 3:31 time.

Manual's Freshman squad ended its season with a 6-4 slate, breaking four records along the way. In the long jump James Pinner leaped 20'8", and Charlie Wallace put the shot 43'3-4". The mile relay team, composed of Blake Housam, Gary Cannon, Jeff Adams, and Pinner, posted a new mark in that event with a 3:49.5 clocking. Terry Langford set a mile and a half record with a time of 8:25.4.

Diamondmen Win City, Sectional, and Regional

The 1968 Varsity Baseball Team was the best in Manual's baseball history with a 20-2 season record. The diamondmen had enough skill to make it to the Franklin Semi-State. However, they lost 5-4 to a hard-hitting team from Spencer. The 'Skins received Sectional and Regional crowns at Southport and Beech Grove, and, the City.

Junior Jeff McGuire was voted the "Most Valuable Player." He also earned "top pitcher" as he hurled a season record of 12-0 for 68 innings of pitching, and had an ERA of .8. He went to the tourney with a strike-out average of almost two per inning and pitched a 5-0 no-hitter against city foe Marshall in the Regional title game.

In hitting, Joe Tutterrow, All-City second baseman, led with a .430 average. Center Fielder Larry Morwick had a .320; First Baseman Tim Mercer, .308; and Right Fielder Garry Neumeyer, .300. Also in the .200's was Pitcher Randy Harrison who made All-City left fielder.

Jeff McGuire, Manual's top pitcher with a 12-0 record, prepares to hurl the ball over the plate for a strike.

David Hoyt, a strong hitter for the Redskins, takes a cut at a ball pitched by a tough defensive team. Manual came out victorious with a hard hitting Varsity team last year.

After a graduation loss of only five lettermen, Steve Brown, Larry Cooney, Eric Frey, Randy Melton, and Gary Smiley formed the nucleus of the '69 team.

Reserve and Freshman Baseball Squads were also City Champs with season records of 8-2 and 7-3, respectively. On the Reserve team, Gary Burge, with .533, and Dan Broughton, with .500, led the way for Manual in the batting department. On the Freshman team, Rick Tyree averaged .433 and Dale Petrie averaged .432 to lead batting.

Courtmen Wield Rackets with Zeal

The Tennis Squad finished out the '68 season with a 9-6 record. Don Crafton, who played in the number one spot, closed with an 8-9 singles record. Senior Darrell Allen, number two man, finished his tennis career at Manual with 14-4. In doubles competition these boys had a 10-3 record.

Playing number three was Wayne Shaw, a '68 freshman, who had a 10-2 record. Randy Boles, number four man, was 7-6, and his doubles record was 6-5. Joe Kieffer, the fifth man on the team, had an 8-4 singles record. Number six, Mark Hedgard had a 3-3 singles and a 4-3 doubles record.

The squad made a slow start as they won over Northwest but lost to Southport, Broad Ripple, and Scecina. In the Howe Invitational, the 'Skins placed second but were beaten out of first place by only one point. They also lost to Cathedral, Tech, and Arlington in regular season play; but they defeated Washington, Attucks, Warren Central. Kennedy, Howe, Wood, and Marshall.

In the City Tourney Joe Kieffer made it to the final round, playing in the number five slot, to give him a second place in the city.

Randy Boles, the number four man on the Tennis Squad, returns a serve with a quick backhand. Filling other positions were Don Crafton, playing in the first position; Darrell Allen, in the second spot; and Wayne Shaw, the number three man.

The '68 racket team was lead by (front row), Don Crafton, Wayne Shaw, Doug Allen, and Joe Kieffer. Pictured in the back row are Coach Leland Walter, Darrell Allen, Mark Hedgard, and Randy Boles. The racketmen practice in the gym in early spring and move to the Garfield Tennis Courts when weather permits.

Coach McBride's Teemen 'Swing' into Spring

As third-year mentor of the Teemen, Coach "Woody" McBride, also head of Physical Education, has been looking for a winning 1969 season.

With a record of five wins, three ties, and ten losses for Spring 1968, the squad is definitely going through a growing period. The five victories were over Wood, 12-0; Chartrand, 11-1; Washington, 10-2; Shortridge, 9-3; and Kennedy, 12-0. The deadlocks came against Marshall, Brownsburg, and Attucks, and all three matches ended 6-6.

While placing eighth out of fifteen teams in the City Tournament and in the Sectional, Coach McBride instructed several outstanding swingers. Seniors Bob Yocum and Steve Graves, number one and two men, respectively, were the pacemakers for the squad as each averaged around forty-two strokes for nine holes throughout the season.

Although the team felt the loss of Steve and Bob, the only grads, their disappearance was compensated for by a young but experienced '69 team.

Tom Klinge was the outstanding underclassman. He fired a 45 in his first match of '68 competition and was consistently under that score the rest of the year. Along with Tom, to form the nucleus of the '69 squad, were Scott Johnson, Steve Butler, Mike Horton and Ron Miller.

Tom Klinge, only a freshman, was outstanding on the fairway and hopes to lead an over-par team for the next three years.

Many Manualites Enjoy Playing Fast Games

Intramural athletics were offered throughout the year for both boys and girls who enjoyed extra recreation as their method of keeping in shape.

The bowling league, sponsored by Miss Wilma Garrity and Mrs. Judith Banks, provided relaxing exercise for both boys and girls during the winter time. Scott Johnson gained the highest average for the boys, and Marlene Pierce, for the girls. The Highest individual game scores were recorded by Dan Walker and Pat O'Conner, the president of the league. Alan Treeter and Michele Kuchler were the most improved bowlers by the end of the season. Taking team honors were Steve Butler, Michele Jones, John Schieble, and Terry Glass.

The girls were offered a wide variety of activities which included soccer, basketball, track, softball, badminton, tennis, archery, and volleyball. These sports were sponsored by Mrs. Ann Kloote and Miss Kathryn Lawrie, on Fridays. The basketball squad participated against other schools and achieved a 5-1 record, losing only to Beech Grove.

Mr. Clark Dickerson sponsored intramural basketball games for boys which took place on Wednesdays. At the end of the season, playoffs were in session. A team called the "Undertakers," headed by LaNathan Norris, won the "A" division, while Ron Younger's team "Smoke" topped the "B's."

Snapped in a fast moving game of basketball are Dave Burton, George Robinson, Steve Adams, Norman Mogle, and Gary Smiley. Looking on in the background is Steve Breedlove. In the "A" Division the "Undertakers" were the winners, and in "B" Division the team called "Smoke" was the winner.

Janelle Denny jumps center as the Manual girls' team plays Speedway High School with Miss Kathryn Lawrie officiating.

Block M's Make Flashy Show on Fridays

The Manual Letterman's Club is an honor organization for athletes who have won Block M's. The members wear their sweaters on Fridays, and business meetings are the first Friday in each month in the teachers' cafeteria. Considered a service group, the club tries to promote Manual in every way possible. During basketball season, the members swept the floor at halftime of each game.

The club members distributed cannisters to various stores and other places of business in the community to collect money for a Multiple Sclerosis Drive. Officers of the club include Seniors Steve Brown, president; Jeff McGuire, vice-president; Mark Janke, secretary; and Garry Neumeyer, treasurer. Mr. Raymond Schultz, a football and track coach and former letterman, is the sponsor.

Album

Faculty members, seniors, juniors, sophomores, freshmen — all have posed for the cameraman and are pictured here, page by page, row on row, to make this Ivian a real memory book of the faces of casual acquaintances, good friends, and close chums of this school year. We shall cherish this album because in years to come it can produce our mental pictures of these fellow Manualites in black and white.

How good to have them all here together!

Principal Kincaid, Mr. Huckleberry Become Prexies

Mr. Maurice Huckleberry, president of IEA this year, and Principal Wayne H. Kincaid, president of a new administrators' organization, look over the program from the retirement dinner the city schools had to honor Dr. George Ostheimer.

The 1968 national election found many Manual faculty members involved in party campaigning. Two even were elected presidents, but these in education "politics." Principal Wayne H. Kincaid is now president of a newly formed organization for persons with administrative jobs in the city schools and Mr. Maurice Huckleberry served as president of the Indianapolis Education Association. We are proud of both, they carry the Manual label.

Whether teaching in the classroom or helping with extra-curricular activities, Manual faculty members seem to have our best interests at heart. Tireless teachers coach plays, direct musical programs, sponsor Redskin Revue acts, and keep clubs running smoothly. Because of their interest, all of these activities are made an important part of our educational experiences, adding fun to school.

Coaches seem to "care" for the players involved, whether their sport be an inter- or an intra-mural one. The most fun athletic event of the year came March 12 when good sport teachers, "Faculty Fogies," played the All-Star intramural basketball team of course, the "Fogies" won.

The counseling and friendship of a teacher has kept many a Redskin coming to school who otherwise might have become a "drop-out."

Manualites lost a good friend April 28, a man who had been a Redskin for almost 50 years — Mr. Harry Painter. He was graduated from Manual in 1923 and attended Wabash College. During his college football career, he was known as "The Great Painter" and became an All-American star. Returning to Manual in 1929 as assistant football coach and a teacher in the Social Studies Department, Mr. Painter made a 40-year contribution teaching Redskins.

Faculty members, who sponsored Redskin Revue Acts, are Mr. Robert Crawford, Mrs. Martha Cross, Mrs. Rebecca Soendlin, Mr. Robert Healy, and back row, Mr. Robert Snoddy, Mr. Leland Walter, Mr. Robert Hignite, and Mr. Dennis Jackson. They were Jacks-of-all-trades as they pitched in to assist with whatever was needed by their writers and casts. Taking notes on how acts looked during rehearsals was their biggest job. They were also involved in making or borrowing materials for sets and costumes, and they helped keep the business straight.

President Don Norcross Has Successful Year

Senior Class officers are Secretary Sandee Baker, Vice-president Garry Neumeyer, President Don Norcross, and Treasurer Regina Maple, who pause on the campus for a short briefing.

The month of May seemed to whisk by as members of the Class of '69 approached graduation time. September, when students returned to Manual's halls and school spirit gripped the hearts of the seniors for their final year, was an eternity ago.

In the early fall, seniors plastered the hallways and cafeteria walls with campaign posters in support of candidates vying for class offices. Wearing armbands and roses, gaily attired seniors gathered in the cafeteria for the annual class party on Senior Day, October 30, where class officers were officially installed by Principal Wayne H. Kincaid.

Turnabout Day, during American Education Week, found outstanding seniors taking over for teachers for a day. Several seniors undertook the project of writing Lilly Endowment papers for scholarship competition and in preparation for college Marge Boyd won first place, Carol Hill, second.

At Sectional time senior boys organized a male Cheer Block to back the team and help boost attendance at games. Their caravan of cars led fans to the Southport Sectional in a wave of spirit.

April arrived with a Square Dance at which seniors swung their partners and enjoyed "senioritis." The English adaption of "Anastasia" by Guy Bolton was presented as the Senior Class play. Spring fever and a touch of nostalgia hovered over the seniors as the year drew to a close. Vesper Services, Commencement, and the Senior Prom at the Indiana Roof closed four full and rewarding years.

Seniors Brent Riley and Judie Blonder put up campaign posters for their favorite candidates competing for class offices.

Seniors gather around a large banner on the cafeteria wall to write their names and messages during the Senior Day party.

With the help of a little Elmer's glue, Seniors Don Norcross and David Treter "create" a bit of "matter" as they prepare models of different types of molecular structures and bonds for use in Chemistry classes. Both, as student assistants in the science department, were among many seniors who helped teachers with tenth hour chores during the year.

Juniors Organize, Plan Class of '70 Activities

Junior Class President Frank Prindle discusses themes for the Spring Prom with the other officers, Vice-President Sharon Boyd, Treasurer Donna Collier, and Secretary Becky Rogers.

Returning in the Fall as older and wiser upper-classmen, the Class of '70 was eagerly intent on accepting the responsibilities of their recently acquired rank and distinction. Emphasizing this class spirit, the election of class officers came during the first few weeks of September. Donning class rings marked another new privilege.

The newly elected officers enthusiastically began the drive for collecting Junior Class dues toward financing well-advanced plans for a prom.

In December, amidst the festivity of gifts, cards, and Yuletide parties, the Juniors provided Manual with the traditional Christmas tree which was so huge that it almost blocked the main hallway. On December 16, Juniors met after school to decorate the tree. Later they gathered in the cafeteria for the annual Christmas dance.

The Junior Prom at Indiana University Medical Center was the highlighting event of the whole year. Enchanting in evening gowns and handsome in dinner jackets, the Juniors had a wonderful time dancing to music of the "Skyliners."

To close the year, the Class of '70 had its last meeting May 14 with Mr. Willard Henderson, sponsor, who gave final reports of class activities.

Advertising

Metropolitan Indianapolis, now an area with some 782,000 people, is spreading out and growing up as the newest and tallest building, pictured here, attests. And so are we growing up to become the adult citizens of a near tomorrow. Our purchasing power, which is already considerable, will make us valued customers and clients of the businessmen and merchants of this community, so we have invited their advertising in our 1969 yearbook.

And so the '69 Ivian closes, picturing two capped and gowned seniors with whom all '69 grads have already identified. All other Manualites—juniors, sophomores, and freshmen—should train their sights on this goal of one day being pictured as a Redskin graduate.
